

BEEZY BAILEY, Remember when the rain was huge and bubbles rose up from purple depths and the forests echoed with the laughter of a million birds, frogs, insects and creatures? Let not the orchestra of life fall silent.

Mixed media on canvas, 100 x 135 cm